

SMALLPOX THREATENS LUMBERPORT

One Italian Has Disease and Thirty Others Are Under Quarantine.

COUNTRY IS EXCITED

Threats to Shoot the Guards
Are Made and to Break
Quarantine.

Smallpox exists at Lumberport. An Italian broke out Sunday with it. Dr. D. P. Morgan, of the state health board, pronounces it a well defined case in mild form. Thirty Italians have been quarantined at the Pooz mine there, all having been exposed. Guards have been placed over them day and night.

Friday morning the guard reported that the Italians threatened to shoot him and were also threatening to break quarantine. Rigid enforcement of the quarantine was then ordered, together with more guards.

There has been no discovery as yet as to where the fellow came in contact with the disease. The country surrounding is much excited over the existence of the disease.

GILBERT FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mr. Nathan Strong Gilbert, the venerable father of Mr. Frederick W. Gilbert, manager of Swift & Company's plant in Cumberland, who died at the home of his son Wednesday night at 12:30 o'clock will not take place until after the arrival of relatives residing at a distance, who are not expected until Monday or Tuesday. Manager Gilbert formerly resided in Clarksburg.

GANDY'S SHOW

House and His Success at Lima, O., Receive Newspaper Praise.

The Republican-Gazette, of Lima, O., contains the following about William E. Gandy, a former resident of Clarksburg:

Few people realize the great strides made in the last few years as regards the moving picture shows. One of the pioneer Lima picture show men is Mr. W. B. Gandy, proprietor of the Dreamland, located in the southeast corner of the Public Square. This elegant little theatre has been running for the last two years under Mr. Gandy's personal management and has been a great success financially. Mr. Gandy personally selects his picture subjects, which are strictly moral and very instructive, catering especially to the ladies and children. During the last week the large room in the rear of Dreamland was secured by Mr. Gandy and turned into a large moving picture theatre, beautifully decorated and completely equipped with elegant opera chairs and all the conveniences of the large theatres.

The new theatre will seat from 300 to 400 comfortably. The room formerly occupied as the theater has been made into a penny arcade and during the intermission a musical program is rendered. Mr. Gandy is to be congratulated upon his progressiveness in his chosen line.

James Hogan, aged 26 years, an oil well driller, is dead at his home on Mulberry street. He passed away Friday morning at 9 o'clock after an illness with kidney trouble. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hogan, who, with three brothers and three sisters, survive him.

The funeral will take place Monday morning with services at the church of the immaculate Conception and burial in Holy Cross cemetery.

HAYWOOD COMPANY

Will Install New Machinery
to Increase Its Daily
Output of Coal.

The Haywood Coal Mining Company holding the Mansbach lease at Haywood, on the M. & E. branch of the B. & O., has been reorganized with a capital stock of $75,000. The new stockholders are Fairmont and Pittsburgh people. E. S. Gwinn, of Pittsburgh, is the president of the new concern.

The company will augment the productive powers of its plant and will install new machinery at the plant which will bring its capacity up to 500 tons daily. The company has 175 acres of good coal.

RUNAWAY BOYS ARE TAKEN HOME

Constable Returns to Charles Town With Wilson Higgs and John Conrad.

Wilson Higgs and John Conrad, the two runaway boys who were captured by local policemen Thursday forenoon, were taken to their homes at Charles Town Thursday night on train No. 4. James Smith, a constable of that place, having come for them.

The boys were handcuffed together. Their parents, it was told, had spent a good deal of money on the boys but they were filled with the spirit of adventure and wanted to roam the country. The Higgs boy's father had spent $600 on him in the last several months. This boy was being educated for a lawyer and had been sent to college in Georgia but got into a scrape there. It was said, and an officer was after him. He escaped from the officer on a Norfolk and Western train near Roanoke, Va., and he and the Conrad boy toured the country and went to Canada before coming to this city. Conrad's father is a barber and John followed that trade, having taken a position as such here.

CONFERENCE HELD

In Reference to the Odd Fellows State Home Being Built at Elkins.

Hon. Sep. Hall, of New Martinsville, and John Beck, of Parkersburg, sub-committee of the general committee in charge of the construction of the I. O. O. F. home at Elkins, were in Wheeling yesterday and conferred with C. T. Jenney, engineer and landscape gardener of Steubenville, Ohio, relative to plans. Mr. Jenney has prepared for the beautification of the grounds surrounding the home. The plans provide for an artificial lake, construction of a park, and other features which will serve to add to the attractiveness of the place. The Odd Fellows own 105 acres where the home is being built, and when completed it will be one of the most thoroughly modern institutions in the state.

PRESIDENT AND LEAGUE SETTLE

Season's Business of Pawva
League Accounted at Uniontown Meeting.

Vice president Frank J. Welch, of the Clarksburg Baseball Association, has returned from Uniontown, Pa., where he attended Thursday night the Hampshire County Orchard near Romney, to arrange for the shipment of apples, and to prepare the trees for the winter. The company has 25,000 trees and the orchard is but three years old. It promises to be among the greatest and most profitable orchards in the United States. It is owned by Fairmont people. They will be there two or three days.

It developed at the meeting that the Clarksburg and Uniontown clubs were the only ones that had sent in their official averages of games played. Fairmont made the next best effort, having sent in all but seven of its games. Delinquent clubs were ordered to send in their averages and they will be issued by the president as soon as they can be received and compiled.

The season pennant was officially awarded to the Uniontown club. Another meeting of the league will be held at Uniontown January 15. Plans were discussed for the next season. It is likely that the league will be made an eight town circuit next year. Nearly all of the clubs now holding membership will remain with the league.

RECOUNT IS TO GO INTO NEXT WEEK

With Twelve of Thirty-Eight Precincts Counted Morris Loses One Vote.

BOTH GAIN VOTES

And Both Lose So That There
Are No Decided Changes
Favoring Either.

The recount of the vote for prosecuting attorney in the county will likely not be concluded before the middle of next week. At noon today but nine of the thirty-eight precincts had been counted, though the county court had been engaged a day and a half thereon.

The districts counted were Coal and Elk, with eight more to count. In Coal at the Pierpont school house Will E. Morris, Republican, gained five votes and at the Walker house in the same district he gained eight over the official canvass, and A. J. Findley, Democrat, gained three at the Bartlett school house in Coal district and seven at Johnstown in Elk district, making a net gain of three for Morris thus far over the official canvass, which gave him 44 majority.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the three precincts in Eagle district had been counted. Findley gained one at Wyatt and three at the Robinson school house, and at that time the official majority of Morris had been reduced one vote.

UNCLE DIES IN WHEELING

James E. Dyson, Well Known
Here, Answers the Final Taps.

Edward T. Mills and Miss Mary Camp were called to Wheeling today by the death of their uncle, James E. Dyson, of that city, Wednesday. Mr. Dyson had many friends here who are pained to hear of his death.

The Wheeling Register has the following about his death: James E. Dyson, an old and highly respected citizen of the Island and a veteran of the civil war, died at his home at No. 29 South Broadway street, on Wednesday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, after an illness of about three months of complications which developed into Bright's disease. His death has cast a gloom of sorrow over his many friends in this city and elsewhere.

James E. Dyson was born in New York city 68 years ago, and came to this city with his parents when quite young. The family took up residence in North Wheeling where the subject of this sketch received his early education in the public schools. Early in life he learned the trade of a gas and steam fitter, being an apprentice under the late Benjamin Dillon. He was employed for years at the city gas works and as a tradesman he was an expert in his line. He retired from active labor a number of years ago. He was a son of the late John and Sarah Ann Exley Dyson, who came over from England early in life and settled in New York city. Mr. Dyson was married to Miss Sue Biggs, at Clarksburg, W. Va., in 1866, her father, the late Col. Zachariah Biggs, being at that time in charge of the government corral at Clarksburg, the Biggs home being at West Liberty.

Mr. Dyson enlisted in Carlin's Battery D in Wheeling in 1861 and saw three years' gallant service. After being honorably discharged he returned to Wheeling.

Mr. Dyson was a member of the Thomson M. E. church for many years. He was a genial, affable gentleman, and it was these qualities that won for him legions of friends. Besides a widow, he is survived by two sons and three daughters, as follows: W. H. and James A. Dyson, Misses Fanny W. and Lavinia E. Dyson, and Mrs. Margaret Black, all of this city. He also leaves one brother and two sisters, who are John Dyson, Mrs. Noah Beck and Mrs. William Zink, all of Wheeling. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
